About Indofest ADELAIDE

Indofest-Adelaide is a free, family-friendly festival that brings together music, dance, food, and cultural experiences from across Indonesia. The event features a mix of traditional and modern performances that highlights the diversity of the Indonesian archipelago.

The festival is a combined effort involving Indonesian community groups across South Australia and is presented by the Australian-Indonesian Association of South Australia (AIASA), a not-for-profit organisation that has been promoting Indonesian culture locally for more than 50 years.

Held in the heart of the city, Indofest-Adelaide offers something for all ages, whether you're enjoying the performances, or tasting street foods. It's an opportunity to experience and appreciate the many traditions, stories, and flavours that make Indonesia unique.

Food Vendors

Indofest-Adelaide features a selection of food vendors offering dishes from different parts of Indonesia. From snacks and street-food favourites to regional meals and sweet desserts, there is something for everyone to enjoy.

Warung Onde-Onde

Warung Onde Onde is a group of friends who have a passion for cooking and like to introduce and share delicious Indonesian food with our friends at home and also at work such as the Longest table and the Biggest Morning Tea. We have joined several events, including Kartini Day and Indonesian Independence Day, as well as the bigger events like Indofest and Multicultural Festival in Adelaide. We make delicious Indonesian street food and favourite snacks and drinks such as onde onde, kue ku, nasi bakar, mie goreng, bakso Malang and our popular traditional refreshing es cendol. We also have klappertaart, the very famous, elegant dessert from Manado for this year Indofest.

Selly's Corner

Selly's Corner — where the heart of Indonesia meets the streets of Adelaide!
We serve homemade baked treats, authentic Indonesian snacks, and specialty coffee from our mobile coffee trailer.
Try our signature Pandan Coffee and Butterscotch Coffee — sweet, aromatic, and full of flavour.

♥ Made with love, right here in Adelaide.

Abang Abang

In Indonesian, 'Abang Abang' translates to 'brother.' But for us, it's the cool nickname we use for the amazing street vendors serving up delicious food on the go! From mouthwatering Nasi Campur to tempting street food delights, each dish takes you on a journey through Indonesia's bustling streets.

And the best part? Just like the iconic street vendors in Indonesia, Abang Abang stays open late, making sure you can satisfy your cravings whenever hunger hits!

Experience authentic Indonesian cuisine with us, where every bite celebrates tradition, flavor, and the joy of sharing good food with great company.

I2OZFOOD

ITOOZ is an Adelaide-based business dedicated to bringing the authentic taste of Indonesia to Australia. We partner with trusted Indonesian suppliers to offer a range of high-quality, ready-packed foods made with genuine ingredients and traditional recipes. Each product captures the rich flavours and warmth of Indonesian culture from beloved classics to regional specialties, making it easy to enjoy the real taste of Indonesia, right at your table.

AdelindoMaknos

ADELINDO MAKNOS = ADELaiDe INDOnesia MAKAnan NOSTalgia.

As we live in ADELAIDE, far away from your hometown in INDONESIA, sometimes we crave for the NOSTALGIC FOODS we used to eat. Of course we can try to cook the food by ourselves, but not all of us has the will, the time, and the talent.

To make life easier, our talented mums and dads will happily cook for you, as we also have to cook for our family too. We cook with love for our family and for you too.

PPIA-SA (Drinks Stall)

Perhimpunan Pelajar Indonesia Australia (PPI Australia) was founded in Canberra on 8 March 1981 to support and connect Indonesian students in Australia and help promote Indonesian culture within the wider community.

The organisation is structured at three levels: national (PPI Australia Pusat), state branches (PPI Australia Cabang), and campus-based groups (PPI Australia Ranting).

PPIA South Australia (PPIA-SA) represents Indonesian students across the University of Adelaide, the University of South Australia, Flinders University, and TAFE institutes. This year, PPIA-SA will also be running a drinks stall at Indofest 2025, offering refreshments for visitors throughout the day.

Performers

Indofest-Adelaide features a range of performers presenting music, dance, and other cultural showcases from different parts of Indonesia.

The program includes both traditional and contemporary styles, reflecting the variety of artistic expression found across the archipelago. Performers include community groups, student organisations, and independent artists, each contributing their own interpretation of Indonesian culture.

Gamelan Sekar Laras

Gamelan Sekar Laras is Adelaide's community gamelan group dedicated to the teaching and performance of Indonesian music, dance and theatre. It was formed in 1983 and is hosted by the Flinders University in its beautiful Pendopo.

Their ensemble will perform in Indofest Adelaide 2025's opening ceremony.

North Shed Band

North Shed Band is a local music group performing classic Indonesian folk and ethnic songs. Their set features a selection of 5-7 pieces that highlight the warmth, storytelling, and cultural roots found in Indonesia's musical traditions. The band is made up of four members, Tony Baskoro, Robin, Kel and Harvey.

They combine vocals, live guitar, and backing tracks to present a familiar yet refreshing take on well-loved songs. Their performance aims to share the sounds of Indonesia with audiences of all ages, offering a relaxed and enjoyable listening experience inspired by diverse regional influences.

Calvin D

Calvin D is an independent singer and songwriter based in Adelaide. He enjoys creating and performing music, with a focus on songs that are easy to listen to and can be enjoyed by a wide range of audiences.

At Indofest 2025, Calvin hopes to share a relaxed live music experience that people can connect with and appreciate.

You can find more of his music on YouTube under “Calvin D.”

Svara Rasa

The name “Svara Rasa” comes from the initials of the two performers, Shania and Ruth. The group was formed because the two friends share a love of music.

“Svara Rasa” comes from Sanskrit, where Svara means sound/tone and Rasa means feeling or meaning.

The name reflects their intention to create music that is born from sincerity of emotion and harmony of sound. It also represents their love for Indonesia; although both performers live in Australia, their group name continues to reflect their Indonesian roots.

Kevin C.N. & Thomas

Kevin C.N. and Thomas are teaming up for a relaxed acoustic performance featuring three Indonesian songs and one original track. Blending vocals and guitar, their set highlights well-known Indonesian favourites while also introducing their own work to the audience.

Flobamora

"Flobamora" refers to the Flobamora Indonesian Association in Adelaide, a community group that represents the islands of Flores, Sumba, Timor, and Alor in Indonesia. It holds meetings and events for the local Indonesian community.

The Flobamora community will present two beautiful dances from East Nusa Tenggara (NTT). The first performance is Tari Ja'i, a traditional dance from Bajawa, on the island of Flores. Originally performed during harvest celebrations and traditional ceremonies, Ja'i symbolizes togetherness, joy, and gratitude. It is performed by men and women in groups, forming circles or long lines, moving rhythmically in harmony. Today, Ja'i is often performed at various cultural and social events to celebrate unity and community spirit.

The second performance is a contemporary dance accompanied by the song Ikan Naik di Pantai, expressing happiness and togetherness. For this part, the dancers will also invite the audience to join in, sharing the joyful energy of East Nusa Tenggara.

Adelindo Angklung

Adelindo is a well-known Indonesian angklung ensemble based in Adelaide, celebrated for bringing the unique beauty of bamboo music to life. Through the gentle yet vibrant sounds of angklung, they create a harmonious performance that showcases Indonesia's rich musical heritage. Their music is both playful and elegant, inviting the audience to experience the traditional charm of this iconic Indonesian instrument.

Indofest Raffle

We would like to thank Indopeduli for coordinating this year's raffle, as well as all the communities and individuals who sponsored or contributed prizes. Your support has helped us raise funds for charitable causes in both Indonesia and Adelaide, and we are grateful for your generosity and collaboration.
